- vii. Paid cheques will not be returned except under special arrangements.
- viii. Cheques must be drawn only against funds actually realised and credited to accounts. Under no circumstances should a customer presume that overdraft facilities will be allowed or drawings passed against cheques in course of realisation.
- ix. It should also be clearly understood that
 - a. Cheques issued by the customer which when passed, would cause a debit balance in the account for whatsoever reason, would be deemed by the Bank as an implied request and authority by the customer to the Bank to pass the cheques and allow such a temporary debit/overdraft and
 - b. the passing of cheques whether at the discretion of the bank or otherwise or at the request of the customer, resulting in overdrafts in the account should not be construed as a regular arrangement for an overdraft facility.
- x. Issuing cheques without sufficient balance in the account is an offence under Sec.138 of Negotiable Instruments Act and will attract penal provisions under the relevant section.

5. Cheques and Bills for collection:

- i. All cheques and other instruments tendered for credit should be crossed.
- ii. The bank undertakes on behalf of constituents the collection of cheques, hundies, bills, drafts, salary and pension bills etc.
- iii. Cheques, demand drafts, bills etc., payable locally should be sent early in the day, so that if possible, they may be collected on the same day.
- iv. Cheques, drafts etc., on local banks will be collected free of charge.
- v. If instruments taken for collection are dishonoured and returned, the bank does not undertake to give notice of such dishonour to the constituent who has tendered the instrument until the succeeding day. The bank will have the right to debit the account for all items already credited to the account, which are subsequently returned or remain unpaid.
- vi. Cheques, drafts etc., tendered for collection and credited to an account must not be drawn against until they have been realized. It must be distinctly understood that even though credit entries may have been made in the statement of account or pass book, should such credits be made up wholly or partly of cheques or other instruments under collection, the amounts so made up are not available for drawing until such cheques and instruments have been actually realized. Under no circumstances should a customer presume that drawings will be permitted against cheques in course of collection.

- vii. The bank will not be responsible for any loss that may occur by delay or otherwise in transmission or collection.
- viii. Cheques and drafts and other instruments accepted for collection/ purchased/negotiated by the Bank will be forwarded for collection to the branches of the bank/another bank at the place at which the instruments are made payable entirely at the risk and responsibility of the account holder. The bank will be at liberty to make use of the services of any bank of its choice for collection and the bank so employed will be the agent for the account holder for the purpose of collection.
- ix. The bank or the agent at its option will send for collection the instruments at the sole risk and responsibility of the account holder by ordinary or registered post at its discretion. The bank will not be responsible for any loss of the instruments in the course of such transmission.
- x. The bank may accept from the agency bank, cash payment instruments or mandates in exchange of instruments sent for collection, such mandates or exchange instruments will be collected solely at the risk and responsibility of the account holder.
